The Lions outscored their opponents 84-13, with All-American Tiffany Trockenbrod scoring 37, including eight game-winners. The 1990 Falcons opened up with eight consecutive wins, posting an aggregate score of 36-2 in winning six games by shutout. A 1-0 loss to Bloomsburg ignited another eight-game win streak that put Messiah at 16-1 entering the MAC tournament. Three wins by a total score of 12-1 moved the Falcons into the NCAA tournament as the #3 seed. A pair of shutouts at home included wins over Johns Hopkins and Salisbury, both for the second time that season. In the semifinals at Bloom, Messiah lost to Trenton State but rebounded to defeat Lock Haven for the second time in 1990, taking home 3rd in the national tournament. Sheila Frey and Laurie Hooper earned All-American honors.
